I agree to be ultimately responsible for payment in full for all services rendered.

Cancellation / No Show Policy

Dear Patient:

To provide all of our patients with the best care possible, it has become necessary to institute a policy regarding canceling or not showing up for your scheduled appointment. We will make every attempt to meet your busy schedule, however it is necessary for you to try and be on time for your therapy appointment. If you are late for your appointment it may be necessary for us to reschedule your appointment for a different time. If we are able to do that on the same day as your scheduled appointment, you will not be charged. However, if the appointment must be moved to a different day due to scheduling conflicts, you will be charged a $50 cancellation fee.

When canceling your appointment due to scheduling conflicts we ask that you please do so by 4pm the business day prior. In high traffic times we keep a waiting list of patients that would like to have your spot if it is available. If you are unable to cancel your appointment by 4pm the business day prior, you will be charged a $50 cancellation fee.

For those unfortunate times when you are unable to make your appointment and fail to call us, you will also be charged a $50 no show fee.

Thank you in advance for your effort to help us provide quality care to all of our patients by being as prompt as possible.

Sincerely,

Nate Koch

DRY NEEDLING CONSENT & INFORMATION FORM

What is Dry Needling?

Dry needling is a form of therapy in which fine needles are inserted into myofascial trigger points (painful knots in muscles), tendons, ligaments, or near nerves in order to stimulate a healing response in painful musculoskeletal conditions. Dry needling is not acupuncture or Oriental Medicine; that is, it does not have the purpose of altering the flow of energy (“Qi”) along traditional Chinese meridians for the treatment of diseases. In fact, dry needling is a modern, science-based intervention for the treatment of pain and dysfunction in musculoskeletal conditions such as neck pain, shoulder impingement, tennis elbow, carpal tunnel syndrome, headaches, knee pain, shin splints, plantar fasciitis, or low-back pain.

Is Dry Needling Safe?

Drowsiness, tiredness or dizziness occurs after treatment in a small number of patients (1-3%) and if affected, you are advised not to drive. Minor bleeding or bruising occurs after dry needling in 15-20% of treatments and is considered normal. Temporary pain during dry needling occurs in 60-70% of treatments. Existing symptoms can get worse after treatment (less than 3% of patients); however, this is not necessarily a “bad” sign. Fainting can occur in certain patients (0.3%), particularly at the first treatment session when needling the head or neck regions. Dry needling is very safe; however, serious side effects can occur in less than 1 per 10,000 (less than 0.01%) treatments. The most common serious side effect from dry needling is pneumothorax (lung collapse due to air in the chest wall). The symptoms of dry needling-induced pneumothorax commonly do not occur until after the treatment session, sometimes taking several hours to develop. The signs and symptoms of a pneumothorax may include shortness of breath on exertion, increased breathing rate, chest pain, dry cough, bluish discoloration of the skin, or excessive sweating. If such signs and/or symptoms occur, you should immediately contact your physical therapist or physician. Nerves or blood vessels may be damaged from dry needling which can result in pain, numbness or tingling; however, this is a very rare event and is usually temporary. Damage to internal organs has been reported in the medical literature following needling; however, these are extremely rare events (1 in 200,000).
